the work of frank o'hara 1926-66 is central to any consideration of twentieth century american poetry frank o'hara now the first collection of essays to be dedicated to o'hara in nearly two decades asks why o'hara remains so important to twenty first century readers and writers of poetry for many o'hara's distinctive appeal depends on his witty depictions of urban experience his relationship to the painters of abstract expressionism and the exhilarating immediacy of his poetic voice yet these approachable qualities coexist with a demanding engagement with currents in european and american modernism the book includes coverage of o'hara moods that have rarely been discussed in the criticism to date including boredom hatred and nihilism throughout there is a powerful sense that fresh readings of o'hara are crucial to understanding his continuing influence making it essential reading for scholars and students of american poetry
